MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

By Rick Santos

Greetings LAPRAAC members,

As we say goodbye to 2018, I would like to wish everyone a happy, healthy, and successful New Year.

Traditionally the start of a new year brings with it a sense of renewal and the opportunity to make positive changes in one's life. This typically starts with the creation of New Year's Resolutions. Maybe you want to lose some weight, or get back in shape. Perhaps you want to save more money, or read more books, go back to school, or learn how to play an instrument. Whatever your New Year's Resolution(s) are, I wish you the best of luck in your endeavors. Be that as it may, you already know it will take more than luck because life will always get in the way of the best of intentions. Most will start out strong, but their motivation quickly dwindles. Remember in order to achieve your goals you must implement Discipline and Consistency. It is the small, seemingly inconsequential daily actions and decisions that will determine your success or your failure. Rome was not built in a day. Look for small victories. If your goal is to lose weight and you resist the temptation to hit the drive through, or skip that second helping, that's a small victory. Celebrate those moments. And the more of those moments that you can string together the more likely your success. Stay disciplined and consistent.

As the year progresses in April members will have the opportunity to make a difference in LAPRAAC. April showers may bring May flowers but for us it's the month that applications for those who wish to run for our Board of Directors (BOD). If you are someone who is dedicated to LAPRAAC and wants to be a voice for membership please consider joining the BOD. Your first step starts with contacting Barbara Ginn at bginn@lapraac.com for further information.

When this letter is published, we will be approximately four weeks away from Baker to Vegas; our biggest event of the year! Further, B2V 2019 will also have two milestones – It's Chuck Foote's final year as race coordinator and West Gates' final year hosting the finish line ceremonies. Additionally, the LAPD Department Team will be defending their title. If you happen to know any of those amazing athletes be sure to show them your support and appreciation for their dedication.

Personally, I believe that 2019 will be another great year for LAPRAAC and its members. Currently the BOD is in the planning stages of a number of great events such as: Dodger Opening Day Tailgate, Wellness Expo and of course our Memorial Run. If any of you would like to share your ideas, thoughts, concerns or just want to say hello you may always reach me by email or my cell phone: rick.santos32900@icloud.com or text/call (714)313-0048.

Until next time, thank you for your service and stay safe!

WELLNESS CORNER -

Tactical Sports Medicine Fit For Duty - Fit For Life

By John Hofman

In 2014, an Executive Order established the “Presidents Task Force on the 21st Century Policing” and one of the pillars focuses on Officer Wellness and Safety. But what does that mean? For over a decade I have often asked the same question and after spending countless hours reconditioning those injured, training recruits in the academy, and being there to help our officers; it has become clear to me what “Officer Wellness and safety” actually means. For the most part we are trying to reverse the negative side effects of what the job WILL do to you physically, emotionally, hormonally, and/or psychological. Simply put, it is about LONGEVITY. It is not a question of “if you get hurt, but rather WHEN” and that could create more problems. If we look at some of the health risks associated with Law Enforcement, it is not absurd to understand why there is a huge push for Officer Wellness.

Officer Health Risks:

1. LEO are high risk for early deaths, heart attacks, and other health-related problems.
2. LEOs have greater morbidity and mortality rates than the general public principally due to cardiovascular disease, colon cancer, and suicide.
3. 40 percent of officers were obese as compared to 32 percent of the general population.
4. 25 percent of officers demonstrated signs of metabolic syndrome compared to 18.7 percent of the general population.
5. Suicide rates were eight times higher among active duty law enforcement officers as opposed to those who had retired or resigned from the police.
6. One study of a major metropolitan police agency indicated that almost 50% of its officers had at least three of the five major risk factors for coronary heart disease – high cholesterol, smoking, obesity, inactivity, poor cardiovascular fitness, or high blood pressure.
7. Surveys suggest heart disease accounts for 20 – 50% of early retirements.
8. Surveys suggest back problem accounts for 15 – 35% of early retirement.

- continued on page 5

9. Younger officers, under the age of 35, have a lower risk of medical problems than the average American, but those 35 and over have a higher risk
10. Sleep patterns and disorders, which are often twice as high among police officers compared to members of the general public

These health risks will only be compounded by issues associated with recruitment and retention of future officers. According to the North Carolina Criminal Justice Analysis Center the attrition rate for police officers is 14% higher than both nursing and teaching. Don't forget the candidate pool continues to shrink thus placing more demand on current officers. In my experience an Officer Wellness Program is more than just fitness standards or a policy. Rather it is a comprehensive program that applies a sports medicine model vs. the traditional occupational medicine model – which was established to manage a wide variety of injuries: from steel workers to the officer worker. The traditional model has shown to be ineffective for law enforcement officers leading to prolonged disability and deconditioning. These problems could make things even more complicated by leading to increased frustration. The added frustration makes it more difficult to return to duty or improve on the officers well being. Cost estimates associated with an injured law enforcement employee varied from $2500 to $12,000, depending on the area injured. An in-service heart attack costs between $400,000 and $750,000, and early disability is estimated at 165% of an officer's salary. Finally, it has been estimated that back problems account for 15 – 35% of early retirement.

For the department, Officer Wellness also represents a sound investment. Studies of law enforcement officers indicate more fit and active officers have 40 – 70% less absenteeism than less fit officers. The cost savings associated with disability are manifold:

- Partial disability means a loss of flexibility in assignments;
- Total disability results in a loss of valued personnel;
- The expense of disability payments; and
- The expense of rehiring and retraining.

It is very clear why Officer Wellness is needed, but just stating the problems is half the battle. Relying on traditional models does not work. It needs to be developed in a manner that is proactive, supportive, and efficient. Here at Southern California University our Tactical Sports Medicine Program places an emphasis on return to work by focusing on the early diagnostic accuracy and the ability to include additional medical support within one campus which utilizes a vertical integration care approach. This model improves outcomes and reduces costs. More important we understand that no one calls 911 on a good day and have experience working with LEO - that is why our motto is "Fit for Duty, Fit for Life."

Last, I am honored to be able to write for the LAPRAAC newsletter. My goal is to share my knowledge and experience with you so we can help you get to retirement healthy. Future articles will focus on different topics that revolve around Officer Wellness: exercise, nutrition, sleep, recovery etc. Over the past 10 years I have worked specifically in the tactical (Law, Fire, Military) industry which has given me access into a world unknown to most, but more importantly it has provided me the opportunity to apply my knowledge to help those serving our communities.

LAPD WOMEN FLAG FOOTBALL TEAM

By Susie Gras

On 01/26/19 the LAPD women's flag football team participated in a charity flag football tournament hosted by Riverside PD. The LAPRAAC Sponsored LAPD teams represented "Ghetto Rescue FFoundation" which is a non-profit organization founded by local police to serve communities in the Los Angeles area that are saturated with homeless, abandoned and abused "street" dogs. The LAPD women's flag football team split their 28-player roster into two 14 player teams to participate in the tournament. Both

LAPD Black and LAPD Blue would like to thank the coaching staff who volunteered their time and everyone who came out to support as well as those who purchased tickets for this charity event but were unable to attend. The Women's flag football team raised approximately $3000 for "Ghetto Rescue FFoundation."

If you are a LAPRAAC member and are interested in being a member of the LAPD Women's Flag Football team please contact Susie Gras via email at 35059@lapd.online

Our Los Angeles Police Baseball Foundation (LAPD Baseball Team) had a very successful Toy Drive and Baseball Series on Sunday, December 02 at Bishop Canyon Fields above Elysian ParkAcademy. Our Team would like to thank Poland National Team, Diamond

Dawgs 18U Team, Northeast Little League, a special guest appearance from our LAPD Chief Michel Moore, and all the family members, friends and fans for coming out to support our cause. The team hosted their Holiday Toy Giveaway Event on December 19 For over a thousand needy kids at Art's Chili Hotdog Stand on the corner of Florence Avenue and Normandie Avenue in South Central. This location is known as one of the starting spots of the 1992 LA Riots. Our team brought together sponsors, partners, volunteers, and 77th Division Community Police Station to turn this memorable location into Winter Wonderland for so many disadvantaged families. For more information about joining the LAPD Baseball Team contact Officer Mike Scott at 818-912-0561 or 34948@lapd.online
