MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

By Steve Estrada

Hello everybody,

On behalf of the Board of Directors, we hope you all had safe and happy holidays. Three months have passed in 2018 and Baker to Vegas is here. The Baker to Vegas Committee, headed by Chairman Rick Santos and Chuck Foote, have put together another outstanding race. The start of March Madness coincides with the B2V race this year and the Westgate is a top spot for the Sports Book during the college basketball championships. LAPRAAC has sold out its allotted rooms at the Westgate and we are set for the race and the ceremony.

For your information, I have assigned a Security

Committee, Chaired by Director Ruben Holguin, to oversee the safety of the race. Due to the incident at the Mandalay Bay, LAPRAAC is taking all the necessary precautions for a safe and secure race. Director Holguin and his team have met with the involved Law Enforcement Agencies and Hotel Security to consider all options for a safe event. We will keep everybody up to date as we move closer to the race.

The USPFWG (United States Police and Fire Winter Games) are a thing of the past now. But, our Ski and Snowboard Team Captain Mike Braun started a new event in its place this year. The "LAPRAAC Winter Invitational" at Mammoth Mountain, took place February 25-27, 2018. The event went great with approximately 70 participants. Looks like the event was a success and plans are to continue it next year. Mike has put in a lot of work for all you skiers and snowboarders, so get involved with your Clubs new winter event.

Can it be that we are talking baseball already too.....!!!

Yes, opening day is March 29th and LAPRAAC will be hosting an Opening Day Tailgate Party at the Picnic Area and Athletic Field. Look for more on this on our social media and around the Academy grounds. We look forward to another great event, much like the Law Enforcement Night that was held last year.

The Memorial Run will be held April 28th at the Elysian Park Academy facility. We look for another great turnout from our membership in memory of our fallen brothers and sisters from this Department. It should be a nice day for the entire family.

The LAPRAAC Board of Directors welcomes Captain Tony Carranza who will be housed at the Elysian Park Facility. We look forward to keeping a good working relationship with the new Captain and continuing our camaraderie with Captain Dan Randolph who is now the C/O of Training Division.

As I've stated in the past, LAPRAAC has had some problems with the City concerning the construction of the Elysian Park Facility, mainly the main building and Café. Before my term is up the Club will engage in recouping the funds spent on what the City terms "not in the scope of construction". We have a laundry list of items that the City was contracted to do but the Club had to pick up the tab so there was a workable facility to have for the membership. The Club will keep you appraised of the outcomes during this matter.

A sincere thanks to the LAPRAAC Board of Directors and the entire LAPRAAC staff for two years of genuine hard work. The Club is moving forward at the behest of its membership.

Stay safe out there.

LAPRAAC Newsletter

– Starting with this edition we have moved away from printing and mailing the newsletter and moved it on-line. I know some say it's about time while others like to have the paper in hand when reading. I too am one that typically prefers reading from a physical printed copy vs

It's Habit Forming

It's already been one month since around 40% of us made a New Year's Resolution to change our habits in a more positive direction. Traditionally, resolutions revolve around health (exercising more, losing weight) or some sort of goal setting (building the BBQ, finishing a degree). Whatever the resolution, the key to success appears to be the persistence of healthy habit formation.

Warren Buffet said, "Chains of habit are too light to be felt until they electronic reading. So, you may wonder why we made that decision. It simply comes down to economics and fiduciary responsibility. To produce and mail 11,000+ copies of the newsletter four times a year it costs over $50,000. The LAPRAAC Board of Directors and Management felt that, although the product we are delivering is important and necessary, it just doesn't make sense to spend that kind of money when we can produce the same information for virtually no cost. Now, if you are a diehard that wants your newsletter in print, we will still print a few hundred. We will keep them stocked in the LAPRAAC Administration Office and in our news stand just outside the café. Please feel free to pick one up next time you are up at the EP Academy. Did you also know that we archive our newsletters on-line? If you want to look at a past issue, please feel free to check out our web site at <http://lapraac.org/newsletter/>. Do you want to be notified when a new edition is released? If you do, you can signup for our e-mail notification by contacting Barbara Ginn at 323-221-5222 x202 or emailing her at bginn@lapraac.com.

On-line - We know there are many Officers that would like to buy LAPD and Baker to Vegas items but just can't make it into the store for various reasons. One solution to this is our web store.

Through our sister organization, LAPARA, we offer numerous LAPD and B2V items. Please take a look at www.thelapara.com/shop and see our wide selection of items. We do not offer guns or ammunition for sale, but we do offer cleaning items as well as accessories.

Elections - Our annual election for available Board of Director positions will be taking place in just a few short months. If you are interested in running for an open position, please review the election notice inside this issue of the newsletter for additional details. We will have 3 positions available; all three are for active duty positions.

are too heavy to be broken." When forming a new habit, keep in mind that another habit is being replaced. That is a good first step, as it allows us to have perspective when implementing the change we are looking to create. Habits become hardwired in our brain's neural pathways; that's why it is challenging to change them. However, change is possible. Think of it as your drive to and from work. On the whole, the route is usually going to be the same. But where there is road construction, Waze steers you on a slightly different route. If you stay on that path for long enough, it starts becoming more familiar and automatic, it becomes your new habit.

A 2009 study by Lally and colleagues found that, on average, it takes about 66 days before a practiced behavior becomes a new habit. For some, however, it took almost nine months to form a new habit. An interesting piece about the study was that although consistency is key to replacing an old habit with a new one, you could still miss a day or two without a problem. Therefore, if you treat yourself to a cookie or ice cream after putting in 30 days of healthy eating, you'll be fine. Be persistent and visualize your new habits taking shape.

For some, February marks the half way point to a new healthy habit. The challenge is to stop focusing on the number of days you've put in and, like the slogan for Nike – Just Do It! In less than a year, you'll be happy with whatever skills you've gained or goals you've accomplished.

Specific treatment modalities, like cognitive-behavioral therapy, can help people develop new, healthy habits.

To learn more about healthy habit change and living a more meaningful or joyous life, please contact me or any of the BSS Psychologists at 213-486-0790.

Shot Callers

December is always the month of giving, and the “Shot Callers” softball team did just that! The team participated in the 2nd annual Ricky Galvez Softball tournament. The tournament honors Downey Police Officer, Ricky Galvez who was killed in the line of duty back in 2015. The fundraiser is promoted by the Downey Police Department and is dedicated to honor one of our own peace officers. All of the proceeds go directly to the community and the officer’s family. This past December on the 15th the Shot Callers entered the tournament, they played the Los Angeles Sheriff’s Men’s Central Jail team in the championship and WON!

On behalf of LAPRAAC Athletics we extend warm Congratulations to the “Shot Callers” for their win, but more importantly for giving back to our community.

MESSAGE FROM THE B2V RACE DIRECTOR

By Rick Santos

artwork along with a link to your team’s home page and we will put it on our website under the “2018 Teams” tab.

What is your why:

As I sit down to type this article I asked the age-old question, Why? Why do we put our bodies through the grueling training we do? Why do we voluntarily come out to one of the World’s largest party cities just to run through the desert? Is it for the “Belt Buckle?” Or maybe it’s to win that “mug” that we fill with our favorite beverage at the end of the race. I truly believe it’s because of the brotherhood we all share. The love that we have for our teammates and the camaraderie that this race brings because of the mutual respect we have for one another. Some of us run in remembrance of those we lost since our last race. Some of us because of the rich history our department/divisional teams have had before us.

I run for a few different reasons, one because of the record holding team of 1996. That was the year I came onto the department and I saw what it did to a division that cared about the race. The pride I saw in the division left a lasting impression. I also run because I have lost some friends along the way. I have lost friends who were participants of this race and were there for me every year I was team captain and scrambling to find my 20 runners.

Since last year’s race we have lost approximately 100 Officer’s in the line of duty throughout our great Nation, maybe that is why you run. Or maybe you are running to pay tribute to those who lost their life on that tragic day in Las Vegas last October. No matter what your reason make sure to hold on to it. Keep that reason with you as you run through the desert.

Thank you

My Committee and I want to thank you for participating in this year’s race. We understand that without your hard work and dedication to our event we would no longer have a Baker to Vegas Challenge Cup Relay. Best of luck to all of you and safe travels. We will see you in Vegas.

Greetings everyone and Happy 2018 from your 2017-2018 Baker to Vegas Committee. By the time this article finds you the race will be here. As I am writing we have 275 teams registered for this year’s race.

For those of you who have submitted your team’s logo it is on our website for all to see. If you are not sure what I am referring to, send us your team’s
